"BLOOMER GIRL" QUILTS HIS JOB

Got Proposal in Seventh Inning at Marion, Ind.

With the beautiful blonde curls that made him look the part of a petite blonde girl tucked carefully away in his worn suitcase, Richard

Vandermeer 17 years old whose pitched most of the games this season for the Star Bloomer girls of Indianapolis, returned the other day to his home in Grand Rapids. Vandermeer, who is a ward of the juvenile court, will return to the truancy school, where he will remain until the season of baseball sport opens again next spring and then he will jerk the blonde wig out, dust it off, and once more become the idol of the fans who wish to see the blonde girl in the alleged female aggregation shoot, the curves over the home plate.

Vandermeer, as a Bloomer Girl, finished a very successful season. He won 40 of the 50 games that he twirled and his girlish figure was never questioned during a contest

Fans, believing heartily that he was purely feminine, cheered him mightily, and after many a game he often heard the remark, "That girl is sure some pitcher." He pitched with his wig on in every game and he had a manner of tossing his blonde curls that captivated the hearts of the fans. Following a game in Marion, Ind., Vandermeer made such an impression with one ardent fan, that he received an offer of marriage in the dug-out during the seventh inning. He sent back a note saying that he would think the proposition over. He is still thinking.

Vandermeer pitched under the name of Rose Johnson, and was credited with the feminine title in all the newspaper reports.

These referred to "the coy young damsel who held down the mound for the Bloomer girls," or "the

When Vandermeer reported to Probate Judge Higbee after his absence of three months, the story of his experience mellowed the judge's heart. He escaped without a reprimand on promise to return to the truancy school and apply himself to his work during the winter.

Vandermeer pitched with the Star Bloomers in Holland this summer.

To Propose Marriage

The spinsters in Washington are getting excited over the news that Sweden is about to pass a law giving women the right to propose marriage, and several of them are thinking of interesting Representative Carl Mapes in the consideration of the advisability of introducing a similar law for the United States.

"The Silent Member From Grand Rapids," however, has ideas of his own on that fertile subject, to which he won't give utterance no matter how great the provocation or how cajoling the flatteries of his Dewey admirers.

Mr. Dell Souter of Muskegon, is in the city today.

PERSIST IN NOT ALLOWING GAS COMPANY TO GO OUT OF CITY.

A. F. Dunn Wants to Put In a Water Gas Plant

A very uneventful session of the council was held last night. The Gas question was again up for a short discussion when the Company presented a petition to make certain connections. Some of the connections were allowed but a majority of the aldermen seemed determined not to let the Gas company get out of the city limits and so some requests near Fairbanks Avenue were refused. A. E. Dunn a representative of the American Gas Construction Co., gave a short talk and answered questions, relative to installing a municipal water gas plant in this city.

The Gas tests for the two weeks just, proceeding the special election and after the election were very much higher than ever before. Out of 35 tests made only one was below 600 and that was 571. The highest tests was 652 giving an average of 624.4.

On motion of Alderman King the Gas Company was allowed to lay the following service pipes: 74 West Fifteenth Street; 94 East Fourteenth Street; 247 East Ninth Street; and 65 River Avenue. They were also granted permission to expose the mains at 390 West Eleventh Street and 199 West Tenth Street for the purpose of removing rubbish.

Ald. Harrington and Ald. Van Drezer voted against this saying that all subscribers should be given the right to have gas connections made.

Another motion by Ald. King supported by Ald. Hansen that the city clerk be instructed to request the Gas Company to give plans of what they wish to do, showing sizes of pipes they intend to use in the construction of the service pipes and mains they have asked permission to lay, was also passed.

A. F. Dunn representative of the American Gas Construction Co. of Madison, Wis., main office in Newton, Iowa, a corporation which has installed over 60 different city Gas plants in various parts of the United States, claimed that they could put in a city gas plant, which could sell water Gas at a reasonable price, for less than 100,000 dollars, laying 25 miles of surface pipe.

He also stated that they would give the city any guarantee it would ask for. This city he said, he did not think was in shape to contract for a plant but he left figures so if at any time in the future the city thought of installing a plant he would be glad to have the aldermen and the Mayor investigate his proposition and inspect some of the plants they have installed.

He told of some of the plants that they had installed to take place of a coal gas plant and claimed the people were better satisfied and that cheaper gas was manufactured. He also said when questioned by the aldermen that he would not sell gas in this city himself less than one dollar per 1000 cubic feet.

Minor Matters Attended To By Council

A petition for grading Twenty

Seventh Street between Central and First Avenue was referred to the Committee on Streets and Crosswalks.

A request to have crosswalks installed on Thirty-second Street was referred to the committee on Streets and Crosswalks with power to act.

Complaint was made by residents in the vicinity of the Thompson Manufacturing Co., that the smoke stack on their building was not high enough and the smoke blew into their homes. Ald. Drinkwater expressed himself in favor of passing a smoke ordinance but this was turned down. On motion of Ald. Hansen the Mayor was given the power to appoint a committee to investigate the matter. The committee will be appointed later.

Alderman Harrington as chairman of the committee on streets and crossings reported that the paving on East and West Twelfth Street has been completed and repairing on this street is progressing rapidly and will be completed in about ten days. The brick pavement on East Eight Street has also been completed. When the work has been completed the aldermen will inspect it in a body.

On motion of Alderman Harrington the council decided to discontinue the lighting of the arch lights on River and Eighth Street until further notice.

The city engineer has been ordered to go ahead and build a sidewalk in front of the residence of William Wright, East Fourth Street. It is claimed that Wright signed the petition to have the sidewalks built along that street and that he is the only one who has not built a sidewalk.

Ald. Vanden Berg said the Maple Avenue church congregation is going to build sidewalks near the church on Maple Avenue and asked that other sidewalks along that street be ordered installed so as to have a continuous sidewalk from Eighteenth Street. A sidewalk was installed in front of the Dykstra resident on this street.

The committee on licenses reported that the license for running a bowling alley at 3 West Eighth Street will be granted to Mr. Vander Helde as soon as the petitions have been torn down and the lower floor made into one room.

Just before the close of the meeting Ald. King made a motion that the council pass an ordinance relative to the wrapping of bread by the Bakers in this city claiming the bread is wrapped just after being baked and the paper retains the moisture in the bread. This was not acted upon, however.

ASK $2,000 FOR INSANE

Ottawa Supervisor Hear Report of Probate Judge Kirby

Grand Haven, Oct. 16.—The board of supervisors in session here listened to the reading of the reports of Probate Judge Kirby and the drain commission.

Judge Kirby's report showed that of the 21 insane persons admitted to the asylum from Ottawa county during the past year, 10 male and 11 female, seven have been transferred to state charge, ten have been discharged as improved or recovered and three died in the hospital.

There are now nine inmates in the asylums from Ottawa county. An appropriation of $2,000 was asked for the insane fund.

A communication from State Dairy and Food Inspector James W. Helme asked that a sealer of weights and measures be appointed to examine the scales in the creameries in the counties and other places where the farmers market their products. The supervisors referred the matter to the finance committee.

At yesterday's session they received an invitation to visit the infirmary at Eastmanville and will no doubt accept it.

The committees on finance, equalization and appointment and the auditing committee are at work in earnest at the court house preparing their reports for the board of supervisors. There is tendency among a number of the supervisors to shorten up the present session as much as possible, altho the October session has usually continued over ten or twelve days. At Tuesday afternoon's session Supervisor Louis Vanden Berg of Holland offered a resolution calling for an adjournment of the board until next week, giving the remainder of the present week to the committees to prepare their reports. The motion was not supported, however, and does not appear in the records.

The board of education of the city of Grand Haven, through its secretary, Nellie G. Squier, asked the annual appropriation of $200 for the support of the Ottawa Co. Normal class. Under the agreement by which the class is organized, the total amount of appropriation required to operate the class is $1400. Of this amount the state furnishes $1000, the city of Grand Haven $200, and the county of Ottawa $200.

At the session Tuesday, Chairman Roosenraad announced the re-arrangement of his committee; to make a place for supervisors Louis Vanden Berg and Ed. Vanden Berg of Holland who were recently elected members of the board. To make a place for the new members the supervisors passed a resolution giving all committees a membership of five. Several committees which before had but three members were therefore increased to the uniform number.

The following are the new members added to the increased committees:

Printing and Stationery—Supervisors Stegeman and Louis Vanden Berg.

Forestry, Supervisors Lubbers and Ed Vanden Berg.

Schools and Education, Supervisors Chittick and Stegeman.

Infirmary and Poor, Supervisors Hildrink and Donahue.

Buildings and Grounds, Supervisors Hambleton and Louis Vanden Berg.

Insane Committee, Supervisors Yntema and Brower.

Purchasing and Supplies—Supervisors Ossewarde and Ed Vanden Berg.

A BAKER'S DOZEN

One of the many explanations offered of the fact that a "baker's dozen" consists of thirteen units follows:

In those early days when bread was sold in open market instead of in shops, women took up the trade of selling bread from door to door.

They received from the bakers thirteen loaves for the price of twelve, the odd one constituting their profit.

Will Close Down Gas Plant

DISMANTLING OF PLANT WILL TAKE PLACE

So Says Brewer

Last night the council members, with the exception of Ald. Harrington and Van Drezer, voted to allow the gas company to make all necessary extensions with the exception of those on Fairbanks avenue. The reason they turned down the Fairbanks Ave. proposition, was that some of the aldermen thought they were getting too near the city limits and in order to prevent the Gas Co. from getting out of the city, they turned down the petition of the Fairbanks Ave. petitioners. This was done even in the face of the fact that the Holland City Gas Co. is enjoined by the Circuit Court, preventing them from getting out of the city. It is hardly probable that the Gas Co., would attempt getting out of the city with an injunction hanging over them, but at the same time Fairbanks avenue petitioners have been cut off by a vote of the council.

Owing to a rumor on the street, that the Gas company would close their plant on account of action taken by the Council last evening, the News called up Mr. Brewer in Grand Rapids, and he said that altho the franchise called for permission to dig in the streets, for the past ten years it had been an unquestioned custom to make connections and extensions without going through the form of obtaining permission, thereby establishing this custom.

Mr. Brewer stated further that last evening they conformed with the franchise asking the council for permission and were turned down; this morning he states that papers are being made out mandamusing the city. He continued, "We will see if we have any legal rights in the city of Holland. If we find that this does not go through, we will close down the plant, dismantle it and get out. We are not hot after that Zealand proposition, in fact the way the Holland situation now stands, there is nothing desirable in it."

The one man who has really been the buffer in the whole gas situation in Holland, is Emory P. Davis, the manager of the Holland Gas Plant. That he is well liked by his customers, goes without saying. Through his ardent efforts, he has brought the gas in Holland up to its present efficiency. The Zealand Gas proposition is in reality one of his own projects as he told the News this morning. He feels that for the past four years, he has been practically working for nothing and accomplished very little owing to the gas situation here, and in order to accomplish something, the company had given him permission to see what could be done in extending the field elsewhere.

The getting of the franchise in Zealand and Holland township was done by Mr. Davis alone, with very little encouragement from the stockholders of the company. It is useless to state that this morning Mr. Davis was very much discouraged owing to the action of the council, and he felt that four years of his life had been wasted in Holland with nothing accomplished notwithstanding the fact that he has gone thru a nerve-racking business regime.

PARCEL POST DISCOVERIES

The parcel post being new in this country, it is not surprising that defects and inconsistencies are found. One of the curious revelations is that a package may be shipped by parcel post from Germany to San Francisco, for example, more cheaply than it can be shipped from New York to San Francisco. This is due to the fact that parcel post rates in this country are about 100 per cent higher than in Germany. Our export postal rates are about 50 per cent higher than those of Great Britain. From the United States an 11-pound package can be sent to the West Indies, Mexico, Chile, Venezuela, Hongkong, Japan, Italy or Peru for $1.32. The rate of Germany to these countries for the same sized package ranges from 40 to 90 cents and from Great Britain the rate ranges from 60 to 96 cents. Our parcel post export business is not yet extensive. In 1912 the number of parcels was about 700,000, while for the same year the number for Great Britain was 3,400,000. Great Britain has more than 200 parcel post conventions, Germany more than 120, while the United States has 47. The present law permits the postmaster general to make better postal arrangements with foreign countries. A part of it reads "For the purpose of making better postal arrangements with foreign countries, or to counteract their adverse measures affecting our intercourse with them, the postmaster general by and with the advice of the president may negotiate and conclude treaties and conventions, and may reduce or increase the rates on mail matter between the United States and foreign countries." It is asserted that under this provision the United States can aid our export parcel post business by making rates to meet those of foreign countries.

The city of Zeeland is building an experiment road on Elm street. The road is being plowed up between Main and Washington streets and grading will soon begin. The road will be built of gravel, the coarse heavy gravel will be put on the bottom and the fine on top. If this road is good the same will be made throughout the city.

Simon Piers and family, John Van Tubergen and family, Mr. Roelofs and Miss Lena Piers left Friday for the Sacramento Valley in California where they will make their home.

The work of the singing school of the First Christian Reformed church of Zeeland has been resumed with the following officers in charge: President, the Rev. D. R. Drukker; instructor, J. Eetterbeek; secretary, P. Karsten; treasurer, Raymond Drukker; assistant, H. Baron. Meetings will be held regularly during the season on Thursday evenings at the church chapel.

Friday afternoon the case against John Hietje of Zeeland, charged with stealing chickens, was dismissed. This case has aroused a great deal of interest especially among the farmers near Zeeland who during the past six months have lost hundreds of chickens. All efforts to catch the thief or thieves proved fruitless, and when recently Hietje was arrested on a charge of this kind many were of the opinion that at last there was a clue to the identity of the guilty party. Hietje's son was arrested at the same time but the case against him was dismissed almost immediately. Hietje's examination was postponed till the afternoon. He was represented by Att. G. E. Kollen of the firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate. His motion that the case be dismissed on account of insufficient evidence was granted.

Jacob Datema of this city who recently purchased the blacksmithing business of P. De Groot at Borculo took charge of the place Monday. Mr. Datema expects to move his family to that village within a short time.

Work is already under way upon some noteworthy improvements upon the interior of the jewelry store of G. H. Huizenga & Co. The walls will be repapered and the inside show window rebuilt, besides the place will be generally overhauled and improved. When the remodeling is completed the stores will present a very attractive and up-to-date appearance, which will be a credit to Mr. Koolker, the wide-awake manager, who is always on the alert for something tasty and nice.—Zeeland Record.

John Hietje was released Friday afternoon on the charge of stealing chickens, and when arraigned before Justice Miles, he was bound over to circuit court for trial. He was unable to furnish bonds and was taken to Grand Haven by Deputy Sheriff Dornbos and lodged in the county jail pending trial at the November term of court.

The original charge against him was dismissed Friday because of a technical error in the complaint on motion of Att. G. E. Kollen, attorney for the defense.

Hietje is charged with attempt at larceny of chickens from Mr. Vandenberg, a farmer living in the vicinity of Zeeland. It is alleged by some that he was caught in the act of taking the chickens from the hen house and evidence is said to be very strong against him.

It is very probable that Professor Trueblood of the State University, will be secured for an evening of readings at the Zeeland High school this winter. Professor Trueblood is the head of the department of Eloquence at Ann Arbor and comes at no expense to the high school, all traveling and hotel expenses being paid by the University of Michigan. The University of Michigan has established a lecture extension department which provides for the sending out to the different cities of the state its best professors for lecture work. The object is to place at the disposal of the people of Michigan the services of the university more directly than heretofore and to develop the feeling that the University is a part of the valuable assets of the state. The demand for these lectures is so great however that for the coming year only one can be sent to various schools asking for a course. There will be from a thousand to fifteen hundred calls for the three hundred lectures provided for by the board of Regents. In order to meet this very heavy call for these extension lectures, it will be absolutely necessary to limit the number assigned to any given community.

BORCULO

Two farmers of Borculo, living not a half a mile apart, suffered broken bones Saturday morning about at the same time, although it was not in the same accident. John Rosema fell from a load of corn and when the doctor arrived it was found that his elbow was broken. At about the same moment, John Raterink, his neighbor, was stepped on by a horse which resulted in a broken shoulder blade for him. Raterink was leading the horse when it reared, threw him down and stepped on him.

FOREST GROVE

Mr. D. Smallegan, one of the pioneer residents of Forest Grove, passed away at her home there early Friday morning at an advanced age. Mrs. Smallegan and her husband came to Forest Grove in the early days of the Dutch settlements in Michigan and have lived there ever since. Mr. Smallegan died some four months ago.

The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Monday afternoon at the Reformed church of Forest Grove, the Rev. Brookstra officiating.

OVID

The Kirkman-Mattson company of Grand Haven will also open a factory at Ovid, having purchased the building and machinery of the Ovid Furniture and Manufacturing company of that place.

SAUGATUCK

Mr. Oswald, who is seining the river and lake at Saugatuck is getting enough fish to satisfy him that there are fish there but has not yet taken any record breaking hauls. He says the weather is too warm to get very good results and then, too, it takes some days to learn the best fishing places. Irving Greenwald of the Star Fish Co., is on hand and has taken the entire catch so far which amounts to 3000 pounds. Wm. Rode has been sworn in as deputy game warden and is responsible to the state for the observance of the laws.

Saugatuck, Oct. 11—O. K. White field agent of the horticultural department of the Michigan Agricultural college, will give a lecture and orchard demonstration in grading and packing apples at the farm of James Boyce, three-quarters of a mile south of the Gibson school, on Friday, Oct. 17, at 1 p. m.

Mr. White will thoroughly explain and discuss the Sultzer apple bill, passed by the recent congress and also the law passed by the last legislature, affecting the marketing and sale of all fresh fruits and vegetables and also some box packing of apples.

If all plans work out there may be work for ten or twelve ship builders on a job of repairing some of the Hemze Lumber Co., boats here this winter. P. H. Hancock was at Hamilton and Zeeland last week looking up material and he believes he can get the lumber needed.

Seaton Arends and son Ivan have bought lot 203 on Culver Street from Griffin & Henry and will proceed to build an ice house. They will do business under the style of the Crystal Ice Company. This lot is where the old saw mill stood. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arie Koning, Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Joseph B. Zwemer has resigned his position as Marshall and Street Commissioner and Frank Garrison has been appointed in his place.

Mitchell Edgcomb is here from Buffalo visiting his brother, Capt. Wm. G. Edgcomb. Mrs. Wm. Edgcomb, Jr., is expected here this week for a visit in the Edgcomb home.

HUDSONVILLE

An excellent illustration of grit personified in Miss Tina Habberman, of Hudsonville, who is 16 years old and has passed the eighth grade in the school near her home. She desired to continue her studies in Holland, so on the first of September her father told her that she might have one half of the potatoes grown on six acres if she would dig them them all and put them in crates, and that he would give her $25 to paint the barn. The potatoes are dug and crated in good shape and the barn nearly half painted. Her older brother, working near the barn, assisted her in moving the heavy ladder and Tina declares that she will finish her job before the close of next week. She says that she will seek other jobs of work till the first of the year when she hopes to have money enough to pay her expenses at Holland for a year and a half.

Her grit and courage bespeaks success in her school work and she certainly deserves it.

October 6.—Little Martha Katt, aged four, daughter of Mr. John Katt, met with a serious if not fatal accident while playing with a little girl companion. Little Martha ran to hide away in the barnyard where her father had a large sow with pigs. The sow attacked Martha just as she was trying to escape through the gate and pulled her back into the yard where she tore nearly all of the child's clothes off and tusked her in the body, her cheeks and thigh many times. The cries of the two girls soon brought Mrs. Katt to the rescue. A physician was called to dress the wounds and he has hope for her if blood-poisoning does not supervene.

NOORDELOOS

"If all the road masters would take as good care of the sections of highway under their care as Phil Hyboer, there would be no trouble and the county road system would hardly be needed," said a Holland business man and automobile owner. Hyboer has charge of the Noordeeloos district and the so-called Noordeeloos road is a fine stretch of highway. It is a favorite with the automobile owners who often take it because it affords a fine stretch where they can run their machines in comfort. Hyboer has often been complimented on his good work in his district.

WEST OLIVE

M. Bohl of West Olive was in the city this morning with some very choice snow apples for sale. Some of the apples were as large as three inches in diameter and all were red and rosy without a blemish on the surface.

EAST SAUGATUCK

Following the acceptance of a call by the Rev. W. D. Vanderwerp to the newly organized Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church in this city, the church at East Saugatuck has nominated a trio comprising the Rev. S. Eldersveld, H. Keegstra and A. Keizer. A selection will soon be made. The local Prospect Park church of that denomination has extended a call to the Rev. A. J. Rees of Byron Center and Rev. H. Darnhof of Sully, Ia., has been called to the pastorate of the Sixteenth street church.

'NORTH BLENDON

A big Farmers' club has been organized at North Blendon. The following officers have been elected: President, H. Dalman, secretary, J. C. Huizenga; treasurer, G. Berg-horst. The club organized with 20 members and many other farmers are expected to join.

EVENING WAS SPENT WITH MUSIC, READINGS AND ADDRESSES

The ladies' Adult Bible Class of the First Reformed church Monday night entertained the Men's Adult Bible class in the church parlors and as usual when the ladies start to do something they do up things brown. The men will have to go some if they ever expect to compete with the ladies in this respect. Mrs. P. Vinkemulder, president of the Ladies' class opened by reading of scriptures and a few hymns were sung after which Albert Raak teacher of the Ladies' class offered prayer and made an address of welcome. Next followed a solo by Mrs. A. Steketee, Jr., and then a dialogue giving a demonstration of Japanese missionary work which was very good, given by the ladies' class. A male quartette was next in order and they tendered some fine selections. Rev. H. J. Veldman, who was next in order, told something about his trip to The Hague, Netherlands and made some brief remarks after which he introduced Mr. Anthony Walvoord, who is principal in a large missionary academy in Japan. Mr. Walvoord gave a very interesting talk on conditions in that country. Last but not least was a piano solo given by Miss Sarah Veldman after which a social hour was enjoyed.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY PARENTS OF CENTRAL SCHOOL PUPILS

The first meeting of the Parent Teachers' club of the Central school was held Friday afternoon. The following officers were chosen: Pres.—Mrs. C. H. McBride; Vice Pres.—Mrs. George E. Kollen; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Gertrude Vinkemulder; Press Reporter—Miss L. Bahr. Superintendent, E. E. Fell and Mrs. James Prices were unanimously elected members of the executive board. The members of the Seventh Grade furnished music and Prof. John E. Huizenga gave a fine address on "Come Let Us Make a Man". The social committee served tea to about fifty.

WORK DONE DURING THE PAST SUMMER CREDIT TO THIS CITY.

Likely That Plans Will Soon Be Made to Provide for Paving Work Next Year.

Although the city of Holland has not done as much paving this year as was contemplated at first last spring, yet it is believed that the paving that has been done will be a credit to the city. Last spring there were numerous meetings in regard to paving College avenue, Graves Place, the ends of River Ave. and Central Avenue, State street and other streets. Because of the strenuous opposition of many property owners all these plans fell through and no more paving has been done than had already been provided for the year before, namely the ends of Twelfth street from Columbia avenue to Lincoln, on West Twelfth street to the lake, and the stretch on Eighth street east of the Pere Marquette depot.

The paving work the past summer has been done carefully and it was not necessary to rush, it unduly. And those who examined the paving that has been completed declare that it is a credit to the city and that it will be a model for other streets when more paving is to be done. Whatever the merits of the contentions in the steam roller controversy of the past summer may be, it is declared by those who understand something of paving that the hired tandem roller has done excellent work.

It is likely that the paving question will again be agitated during the next few months. All the paving that had been authorized will have been completed before cold weather comes, and many believe that it is advisable to do a certain amount of paving each year in order to keep up in improving the city. It is probable that some efforts will be made to make arrangements for the paving of some of the streets that were mentioned in the paving plan of last spring.

PROSECUTION FAILED TO CON- NECT HIM WITH ASSAULT CASE

Att. D. Ten Cate Makes Motion to Dismiss Case and Prosecution Agrees.

The case against Herman Serier, charged with two counts, namely, assault and battery with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder and larceny of a suit case from the Knickerbocker Theater, has been dismissed. The examination of Serier was to have been held Friday forenoon, but on motion of Att. D. Ten Cate of the firm of Diekema, Kollen and Ten Cate on behalf of Serier, the case was dismissed and Serier was freed.

Some time ago when the examination of Mr. Mouw on similar charges was held, the prosecuting attorney and the officers suggested that the examination of Serier should be postponed until Friday, and Att. Ten Cate agreed to the postponement. The delay was asked for with the idea that in the meantime more witnesses might be secured by the prosecution and because it was believed possible that Officer Steketee might remember later on what happened on the evening when he was assaulted. But no new witnesses were secured and Officer Steketee knows no more about what happened on the evening in question than he did at the time of the examination of Mouw.

There seems to be more evidence against Mouw than against Serier. At any rate enough was found against Mouw to cause him to be bound over to circuit court.

Serier was freed from both charges against him.

LOCAL FURNITURE DEALER HAD TO PASS IT UP BECAUSE HE IS MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The contract of furnishing window shades for the new high school has been awarded to the Van Ark Furniture company of this city. This is one of the biggest contracts for window shades that has ever been let in Holland. There are over two hundred windows in the new school building and the shades are all of high class material. There were several bidders but the Van Ark company proved to be the lowest.

A peculiar feature about the granting of this contract was that one of Holland's furniture dealers was unable to make a bid. James A. Brouwer is a member of the school board, and consequently because of the rule that members of boards cannot bid on contracts to be let by the boards, found himself barred from making a try for it.

WINANTS CHAPEL WAS CROWDED TO DOORS AND MANY WERE UNABLE TO FIND SEATS

Miss Grace Browning, Miss Clara Coleman, Miss Hazel Wing and Miss Katherine S. Moore Were Entertainers

The faculty recital of the Hope College School of Music, given in Winants Chapel Monday, proved an artistic success. The hall was crowded to the very doors and many were unable to find seats. At this concert, the new members of the musical faculty made their debut.

Miss Grace Marguerite Browning, of the department of voice succeeds Mr. Francis Campbell, who has held the position for eight years. Miss Browning started her musical career at Hope with Mr. Pease of the voice department, and Mr. Post of the piano department. Since then she has studied for a year in California, four years with Mr. Root of Chicago, and has recently returned from Europe, where she studied with Sig. Cecchini, one of the foremost Italian maestros in the world. Her beautiful rendering of the Aria from "Tosca", at once won the hearts of the audience, which impression was more than sustained later, when she sang a group of songs. Her diction in the Italian and German was as perfect as in her English songs. Miss Browning's is a voice of golden timbre, well-placed, and powerful quality. Her work, Monday proved very artistic, and Hope College is congratulating itself upon the new acquisition in the music department. Her class is already large and is daily growing.

Miss Clara Coleman, is the new teacher of violin. She is a former pupil of Miss Conlon, well known here, and later studied with Carl Becker, the leading violinist in Chicago. Her technique was in good form last night, and she added much to the excellence of the program. She played Kriesler's Libesfreud with appropriate feeling. Miss Coleman's method is correct, and she will certainly build up the violin department of the school.

It is scarcely necessary to say that Miss Hazel Wing's piano work was highly artistic. It always is. It is difficult to say whether she excelled more as soloist or as accompanist to the voice and violin. The extreme delicacy of her touch was revealed in Liszt's Concert Etude, which was perfectly rendered. Taken together her offerings ranged between breadth and power, on the one hand, and dainty delicacy on the other. Miss Wing's class is growing larger every year.

Miss Katherine S. Moore of the College School of Expression contributed in no small way to the delightfulness of the program. As usual, she read well, and was heartily applauded.

The school will give a pupils' recital in December.

Organizes New Team

Seven of the High school athletes held a meeting Tuesday and organized a baseball team which will probably play during the winter under the name of the "Outlaws". They will get games with different institutions out of the city and are planning for a very prosperous season.

They expect to get attractive suits fitting to the name of the team.

All the members of the team are old time players and some of them played with the Holland High school first team last year.

Douma played with Hope College C class last year. Guilds played forward for Grand Ledge High last year.

The following boys will play on this team: Edward Haan; Gordon Oltmans; Harold Lage; Frank Douma; Fred Guilds; Marshal Irving; and John Whelan. Whelan was elected captain and Haan was elected manager.

WILL NOW PLAY MAPLE AVENUE SCHOOL TEAM FOR THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Central School Midgets defeated the Maple Grove School football team by a 12 to 0 score Monday day afternoon. The youngsters played hard and made the game very interesting. Kuite starred for the Central school, making long runs around the end and good gains on plunges.

Another game has been arranged for between the Maple Avenue team and the Midgets for the Championship. These teams have played two games. The first game the Central school won, the second game was a tie.

The Central School line-up is as follows: Van Duren, q; Waffer, fb.; Ingham, rb.; Kole, c.; De Pree, le.; Luidens, re.; Ruskin, rg.; Walters, lg.; Price, rt.; Wiebenga, lt.

REGULAR ORDER OF BUSINESS ASSISTANT STATE FIRE INSPECTOR CLARK IS GETTING AFTER POOR WIRING IN THIS CITY.

Cummings' Pool Room Is the First Place to Be Rewired But Others Will Be Compelled to Rewire.

Assistant Fire Inspector Clark visits this city every Wednesday and Saturday and is getting after the people having wiring in the building that it not up to the requirements of the State Law and in some cases the whole wiring system in buildings must be changed.

The law passed at the last session of the State Legislature in regards to wiring is much more stringent than formerly. If there is wiring in a building which was not done at required by the present State law, but was alright at the time when the wiring was done, the person owning the building cannot be made to change the wiring while it is working satisfactorily but if anything goes wrong with the lights no repairs can be made only in accordance with the State law.

Mr. Clark has been looking into the wiring system in the different stores and buildings and whenever anything goes wrong with the lights through wire trouble he will be right on the job to see to it that the repairs are made as the law directs.

The Cummings Pool and Billiard parlors is being entirely rewired to come under the provisions of this law. One of the wires was short circuited Sunday evening and to make the repairs it was necessary to rewire the whole room.

City Garage Changes Hands

The City Garage formerly owned by J. Frank White, Chris J. Lokker and Herman Prins is now owned and operated by Herman Prins and Teunis Prins, the other partners having sold their shares to Teunis Prins.

The roll was called at shortly after 2 and the entire twenty-six of the members, including Louis Vanden Berg and Ed Vanden Berg of Holland the two new members, responded. The time was largely taken up in preparations for the re-arrangement of the committees, made necessary by the addition of the two new members from Holland, to the board.

The only question which asserted itself at the first meeting was the matter of adjournment. It has usually been the custom of the board to adjourn until 9 o'clock the following morning. Some of the members opposed to this plan, under the claim that it was a loss of time, as the committees could put in their time working during the forenoon and the business of the board could be done more expeditiously at the afternoon session. The members from Holland and the southern portion of the county also favored this idea, as it would save them from arising before daylight in the morning to catch the only morning train from Holland to Gr. Haven. Motion to adjourn until 2 o'clock was lost. Discussion followed and a motion was made to adjourn until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. This also lost, and another motion to adjourn until 2 o'clock was carried.

PETITION POLICE BOARD FOR THE USE OF CLUBS—OF NO AVAIL.

Police Commissioner Mulder Strongly Opposed to Policemen Carrying Clubs in Daytime

At a meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners held Monday night at the city hall and attended by Commissioners De Vries, Brusse, Jackson and Mulder, the matter of policemen's clubs was again up for discussion.

A short time ago Commissioner Mulder brought in a resolution providing that the policemen dispense with the carrying of clubs in the day time. Mr. Mulder based his reason for doing this on the fact that in large cities like Cleveland and Buffalo, excepting in the tough districts the policemen go without clubs. In Grand Rapids this also applies to the crossing policemen.

Notwithstanding the fact that this resolution was passed unanimously, a petition was brought in by the patrolmen Monday night asking that the clubs be restored to them.

The commission did not see it in this light, however, and voted unanimously to file the petition. Then a suggestion was made either that the day police be given short concealed clubs or "billys". Acting upon his suggestion, Chief of Police Dykhuis today gave each man a "billy" with which to protect himself in the day-time. At night of course they will carry the clubs.

The Secret

The secret of heating your home for less money—with less trouble—more comfort—and less dirt is found in burning genuine gas coke and burning it the right way.

If you will fill your fire pot full of genuine gas coke, leaving the front draft closed, the door damper partly open, the draft in the pipe nearly closed and the check draft open in your furnace and will leave about 2" of ashes on the grate bar, you will find that genuine gas coke will prove the most economical and satisfactory fuel you have ever burned.

The Saving

With Hard Coal (WINTER PRICE) at $8.00 per ton.

And Genuine Gas Coke at $6.25 per ton.

There's a saving to you of $1.75 per ton.

That's is—a saving of one-fourth of your fuel bill.

Pretty well worth while, isn't it?

And, yes, Genuine Gas Coke will go just as far as hard coal. Some of our customers say farther. It's all in remembering the secret of "Big Fire—Little cDraft". Remember that you get twice the volume of fuel when you buy Genuine Gas Coke that you do when you use coal; and - that ton for ton, genuine gas coke actually contains more heat units than coal. Try a ton.—Follow our directions.—Convince yourself.—Save the Money.

The Convenience

The convenience of burning Genuine Gas Coke is found in the quickness with which it responds to draft. (Gets the whole house heated before a coal fire is hardly under way)—the ease with which it is handled (only half as heavy as coal).—and in cleanliness in the cellar and throughout the house (all the dirt, dust and soot having been removed at the Gas Works.)

Genuine Gas Coke is the pure carbon that remains after the gas, tar, smoke and soot have been removed from the highest grade soft coal. It therefore gives off no odors or soot and is clean to handle.

Genuine Gas Coke will not injure or burn out your grates any more than any other fuel. The ashes from Genuine Gas Coke are fine, and, in fact, protect the grates even better than the ashes from coal.

It is of the greatest convenience to be able to warm your home quickly in the morning or when returning after the house has been allowed to grow chilly. Genuine Gas Coke holds fire longer than coal and you can have your fire burning in a few minutes

MAKE SALES IN ALL PARTS OF UNITED STATES, CANADA AND MEXICO.
Now Offers New Delicacy, "Rusquettes," Which Is Being Widely Advertised.

Few people stop to think of the great advertising value that accrues to this city as the result of an industry like the Holland Rusk Co.

It was the opinion of the writer of this article, as no doubt it is the opinion of a great many others that a plant like this, manufacturing an article called the "Holland Rusk", would find its outlet for the sale of this product in Holland communities only. But the reverse is true.

If Holland communities only were supplied, if the plant were operated for such settlements and no others, it could be run about one day in a week, for the facts are that the output is sold in nearly every community regardless of location or nationality. For instance shipments are made to New York and San Francisco, to Portland and to New Orleans, to Canada and to Mexico, and even to the Bahama Islands. And it is this widely scattered trade that keeps the factory going and tells incidentally that the city of Holland is on the map.

This telling is done through the medium of the "Trade Mark" that is making Holland famous. This trade mark is no other than the old familiar windmill, and linked with the windmill, goes the name Holland, these being the two features that distinguish these products from others.

There is always something new under the sun, and so with the Holland Rusk Co. It keeps pace with the passing times and offers something new. The newest is the "Rusquettes," and fortified with the Windmill Trade Mark, Rusquettes are now entering the homes of far away cities.

It takes sixty people to run the plant, which is now celebrating its sixteenth year in Holland.

For it was sixteen years ago when this enterprise founded by B. Arendshorst & Sons moved from Grand Rapids here.

This afternoon at the meeting of the County Board of Supervisors a petition will be presented to have Holland township divided into two separate townships with different officers and all. It is claimed that one supervisor in this county is not sufficient to take charge of all the business in the township. It is proposed to divide the fractional township, which includes the resort district west of the Graafschaap road which was annexed to this township many years ago, from the Square township.

The petition has been signed by most of the members of the township board and many of the influential men of this city. As far as could be judged by the people who are promoting this thing, all the people of this township are in favor of the separation and it is now up to the supervisors to hear the petition of the people from this township and grant them the privilege of going ahead with the deal.

A short time ago it was attempted to get another supervisor for the township but the best that came from this was an assistant for the supervisor. But this was not enough to take care of all the business and it is thought that the best way out of the tangle is to have two separate townships.

At present the town hall is east of the Holland City Limits. This makes it considerably out of the way for the people from the resorts and for the people from Zeeland and vicinity to get to.

If the deal goes through as it is confidently expected that it will, the fractional township will become a separate township without any allegiance to the square township.

HAD A LONG VISIT IN NEW YORK AND SAW ALL SIGHTS OF THE BIG CITY.

Carl Shaw, the Holland player, who captivated the Grand Haven fans to such an extent that they paid his way to the world series games in New York and Philadelphia arrived home Wednesday morning after a most enjoyable trip.

Shaw saw the first game of the series at Philadelphia from a good seat in the Grandstand, purchased for him by H. F. Harbeck of Grand Haven who wired ahead to a friend of his to get Shaw a good seat. He also saw the Thursday and Saturday games at New York. He got good seats at both these games also by slipping around to the rear entrance while thousands of people awaited their turns at the main entrance. Shaw is very enthusiastic over the playing of these two great teams and claims it is certainly a treat to see baseball of this caliber.

The Grand Haven fans supplied him well with funds for the trip and he said he had money left.

While in New York Shaw very fortunately became acquainted with a New Yorker who took him to stay with him and showed him the city during the three extra days he was there. "We saw everything there," he said to see there; declared Shaw.

In Philadelphia he had a long visit with John Lavan, a former teammate of his in the Michigan State league.

SUIT STARTED AGAINST COUNTY DRAIN COMMISSIONER.

HENRY SIERSMA.
Ask Court to Review Proceedings in Bass Creek Drain—Road Commissioners Will Report Today to Supervisors

The annual report of the county drain commissioners was read to the board of supervisors Tuesday afternoon. This report is always an important one and gives an idea of the great amount of work which is being done in the department of drains in the county. One of the important features of Wednesday's session was the report of the board of county road commissioners. The commissioners themselves were present and the report was given to the board of supervisors in person.

At the close of the session Monday afternoon, Chairman Roosenraal was served with an injunction in the case of August Fahrnow, et al., against the board of supervisors, restraining the board from assessing the drain tax for the Bass Creek drain, until the matter had been heard in court. The matter was referred to Prosecuting Attorney Osterhaus.

The injunction is the result of litigation which has recently been started concerning the big Bass Creek drain which runs through the township of Georgetown, Allendale and Blendon, by Smedley, Linsey & Lillie. Suit was started this week against Henry Siersma, county drain commissioner in a writ of certiorari, asking the court to review the proceedings in the Bass drain. The affidavit charges that the applications made for the construction of the drain did not contain the names of one-third of the free holders of the affected districts. A further claim was made that one of the signers of the application was not a free holder as required by law.

The Bass Creek drain is one of the largest in the county, and passes through the townships of Allendale, Blendon, Georgetown and Robinson. It is not known whether the policy of holding afternoon instead of the morning sessions, will be adopted for the remainder of the session.

TELLS STUDENTS OF HIS EXPERIENCES IN EUROPE, AT CHAPEL EXERCISES

Say Condition of Discipline in Leading Universities of Holland and Germany Is Very Bad.

Dr. G. J. Kollen, president emeritus of Hope College, stated some pretty plain truths at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning.

The doctor was called upon to address the students on his trip abroad, taken for the purpose of attending the Evangelical Alliance in Scotland and the Oplum convention at The Hague. He dealt very briefly with the incidents of the trip, but got down to real arguments when he touched upon conditions in the college system of the Netherlands and Germany.

He stated that the sense of discipline was woefully lacking; that so far as control over the student body was concerned the college authorities had none. The students matriculate and that is all, so far as any sense of discipline is concerned. After that so far as moral control goes, they run wild, answering to no one, caring for no one. They are entirely on their own resources. They sow their wild oats while in school, in other words, and the moral results are deplorable.

"It is true," said the doctor, "that they have capable instructors but the instructors assume no responsibility for the character building of the student. They instruct, that's all. But sometimes they do not even know the student's, and they seldom know what moral training or experience such students are undergoing."

The doctor contended that instructors should pay attention to the molding of character; should feel responsible for the moral training of the student, and that every thing possible should be done to bring out and to develop all that is best in the makeup of the young men and women who in a degree place their futures in the keeping of those who form the faculty.

Dr. Kollen was given a hearty and noisy welcome and his remarks were loudly applauded.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS J. C. HOEKJE IS FORMER HOPE STUDENT.

Wins Hearts of All in Doing Much to Settle Differences Between Students and Company F.

John C. Hoekje, formerly of this city where he was a student at Hope College, is receiving much praise from the citizens of Grand Haven for his stand on athletic sports. It seems that for some time past a discussion has been on relative to the use of the armory for basket ball practice on the part of the students. The Grand Haven Tribune in this connection hands Mr. Hoekje the following bouquet:

"Superintendent of Schools, John C. Hoekje met with the board of control of Company F, Monday night and proved to be one of the best boosters for the military company this city has had for a long time. Mr. Hoekje immediately impressed the members of the company with his enthusiasm and his declaration that no matter what action the board took as regards allowing the school boys the use of the armory, personally he was going to be a booster from first to last for Co. F and the soldiers' basket ball team.

Mr. Hoekje assured the soldiers that if there was ever any lack of harmony between the students and the faculty and Company F, that feeling should be wiped out, and the institutions should work in harmony. Mr. Hoekje frankly informed the guardsmen that he saw the benefits of training to the young man in membership in an organization, which advocated and produced for clean manhood. The members of the board feared that conflicts might occur if two teams used the armory for basket ball. There was also some feeling concerning the attitude of the students of school in the past, but there were a number of the military board who agreed with Mr. Hoekje that bygones should be forgotten, admitting that there may have been cause for complaint in the past.

"The superintendent left the matter with the board for consideration and the board of control notified him that it had decided to rent the armory to the high school basket ball team for two nights, one in January and one in March for basket ball purposes at half regular price. Certain nights were specified for practice and rules will be laid down which must be followed by the students.

"A schedule is being arranged and it is likely that home games will be played with Holland and Zeeland high schools, return games will also be arranged with these teams. The games away from home will also be arranged with Hart, Zeeland, Lowell, South Haven and Benton Harbor and Grand Rapids Central."

OPINIONS DIFFER ABOUT "THE DOMINIE OF HARLEM"

In a recent issue of "The Banner" is printed a review of Arnold Mulder's novel, "The Dominie of Harlem." The writer of this review takes exception to some of the incidents of the book declaring that they could not be based on fact and that they are overdrawn. Since the publication of the article many an old timer has come to the front with anecdotes tending to show that the episodes in point are based on fact and that the book is not overdrawn. As we promised last week the News herewith reprints the criticism of "The Banner."

"The Dominie of Harlem," by Arnold Mulder. Pub. A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago. Pp. 385. Price $1.25. In reviewing this book, announced and quoted in our previous issue, we feel that it is not an easy matter to do justice to it because it deals with our own social and religious life. And while we sometimes say with Burns:

"O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursel's as ithers see us!
It wad frae monie a blunder free us
And foolish notion,"—

it is not always welcome nor pleasant when someone holds up the mirror to show us just what we look like "as ithers see us." When Queen Elizabeth looked into a mirror after a severe sickness, she was so disgusted with the sight that she dashed the lookingglass to the ground in sheer anger. And no doubt some Christian Reformed people will feel somewhat like Queen Bess and accuse the author of casting a slur on our Church and people.

The best way, however, so it seems to us at least, is to meekly acknowledge that Mr. Mulder has laid his finger on some places which are real sore spots in our body, and to try to improve our general health so that these spots may disappear.

The fact cannot be denied for instance, that among our membership there are people as stiffheaded, unreasonable and self-seeking as Jan Harmdyk. It is also patent that some of our people have unreasonable objections to bodily exercises and fresh air, and some do not give their children a fair chance to play and to be educated, but are grinding work out of them in an uncharitable way.

No doubt also there are church members whose only religion is consisting of church going on Sundays and formal, slipshod, half-hearted Bible reading and tedious prayers at mealtime. There are Nellie Harmdyks whose soul can justly protest about having been deprived of good literature, and outsiders have more than once been startled by the uncleanly use of tobacco made by some of our people. But while we grant all of this, and do it meekly, we believe on the other hand that the author has overdrawn the picture of our foibles.

We confess we felt sorrow, in fact very much pained, when we read Mrs. Wachs' statement "but after all, there is only one Dutch God!" since we trust that no one of our people has ever been so narrow, (shall we say so impious?) as to make such a remark.

Nor can we conceive of any of our people being so ignorant as to throw out an organ because English hymns could be played on it, and buying a new one when told that the instrument could not be used for such "goddelloos" purpose!

Mrs. Wachs' surprise at the fountain pen, "enraptured" with it "like a baby gurgling at the moon," and the "tabooing, absolutely and unqualifiedly," of all works of fiction, ascribed to the minister and consequently to the people at home, even including such a work as "Red Hur,"—all this and many more such things, including our attitude toward other denominations, is overdrawn, and consequently to our mind, marring the pages of the book.

We are very sorry Mr. Mulder went too far in this respect, somewhat falling into the errors of the authorities of "Tillie the Mennonite Maid" in her depicting of life among the Pennsylvania Dutch. No doubt it is very tempting for a novel list to overdraw features of this kind, but after all, truth has its claims even in a work of fiction. Should Mr. Mulder continue to draw material from our Dutch circles, we hope he will deal more kindly with us in this respect. Our foibles are big enough. They need not be exaggerated.

On the other hand we hope that the gifted author will dwell more in subsequent works from his hand—on some of the good and noble qualities of our Dutch people of Calvinistic persuasion.

Talkative Mrs. Wachs won Dominie Van Weelen's respect with her reverence of the Lord which would not allow her to burn an English book because she saw the name of God in it. Such may seem to be a trifling matter, but we are proud of belonging to people that thus reverence holy things. And Mrs. Zandbergen may be quite garrulous but she had a kindly heart after all, and we have many of this class in our country charges and in our city churches. Over against one Harmdyk we have several loving, wholehearted people like Mr. and Mrs. Slotman, and Stormzand may be somewhat annoying at times with his constant quoting of the old fathers, but let us not forget that in our loyalty to the old truth and to the old-time religion, is one of our great sheet anchors in our stormy times of unbelief and scepticism.

We were very thankful for what Mr. Mulder gave us on page 127 and 128 about the splendid features of Dutch literature and Dutch character.

He might have spoken also of Dutch history and Dutch achievement in the most important fields of human science and endeavor. We hope he will work along these lines in future books. It will help us wonderfully to cure our Nellys, and other young people who with a little learning—(such a dangerous thing!)—are despising the Hollanders, because they do not know them and their history.

The author who does justice to these features, though he do it in a work of fiction, will do great good in a just cause which has been sadly neglected. May it be Mr. Mulder's proud distinction to do justice to our race in an American world that has sadly misjudged the Dutch ever since Irving published his cruel caricature of the Knickerbockers. The harm done to our people outweighs by far the temporal praise he reaped from a mis-guided public. And let us not forget—that an author also must reckon with Him who entrusted talents, including literary talents—to uplift, to ennoble, but not to deal unjustly with any man or set of men.

While realizing that the book is a story, not a history, it may nevertheless not be out of place to remark that Mr. Mulder should have placed what he calls the "Great Schism" (!) in the early eighties while our Confession is not composed of thirty-nine articles but of thirty-seven. Neither is Smytelt's name spelled correctly, and who the reformed "father" Pietenpol is, we have been unable to make out.

But of this we are sure, that Armenians are not the same as Arminians, even though Stormzand thinks so, and if the "Standard" is right the name "Domine" would have been more specifically Dutch than the word "Domine" employed by Mr. Mulder in his very attractive picture of Harlem's impulsive but noble pastor—"may his tribe increase."

LAW GIVES HEALTH BOARD THE RIGHT TO KILL COW BUT MAN CAN STILL SELL THE MEAT.

Is Claimed That Parts of Cow To Be Sold are Not Infected—Gets

Pay from State as Well as from Sales.

Dr. N. Prince, veterinary surgeon and Deputy Dairy and Food Commissioner, W. R. Harper, tested the herd of cattle on the farm of Chris Van Kampen, living north of town, and found that three of the herd, two cows and a heifer, had reacted that is, they were infected to an extent with tubercular germs, that made it dangerous to use the milk.

The commissioner directed the slaughter of the three and this morning the orders were carried out.

After the slaughter an inspection of the meat was made and some of the infected parts were ordered destroyed. Other parts were found free from infection and permission was given to sell such parts within the state.

Mr. Van Kampen will receive $25 each for the cows, and $10 for the heifer from the state. He will also be allowed the receipts from the saleable meat.

SAUGATUCK FISHERMEN SEE BIG SNAKE IN LAKE MICHIGAN

While baiting his hooks a few days ago when about eighteen miles out in the lake Will and Henry Shriver of Saugatuck saw a snake approach the boat. It came within about 20 feet of them and then stopped apparently afraid to proceed farther. In speaking of it Will Shriver said it made him feel as though something out of the ordinary was going to happen, for in all his life on the lake he had never before seen a snake on it. The lake at the time was perfectly calm and smooth but in a few moments the brothers heard a roar and looking up, saw that the lake south of them was rough and covered with white caps, and the heavy sea was coming toward them. They stopped their work at once and started for the harbor but the storm struck them before they could reach it and the Affinity was almost capsized. For a distance of about three miles they went through this stormy sea which slid loaded fish boxes from one end of the boat to the other and nearly capsized the boat many a time before they struck calm water again.

GAVE VERY INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS ON "GUARDING CITY'S HEALTH" IN CITY HALL

Tells People How to Protect Their Health By Aiding The City Health Department.

About one hundred people were on hand in the City Hall Tuesday night to hear Dr. Guy Kiefer deliver his address on "Guarding the City's Health." Mr. Kiefer gave a very interesting and instructive talk and was well received. He officiated as health officer for the city of Detroit, upwards of 12 years, and is at present, President of the Michigan State Medical Society. In his address he often quoted incidents of his own experiences, making the talk of more interest.

Dr. A. T. Godfrey opened the meeting as the President, Dr. Brouwer, had been suddenly called away.

After a short address of welcome by Mayor Bosch in which he reviewed the health conditions in Holland and told of the excellent work Dr. Godfrey had done along health lines he extended a hearty welcome to the members of the Ottawa County Convention and to the speaker Dr. Guy Kiefer. Dr. Godfrey then read an address from the President of the Ottawa County Medical association explaining why the association was founded and what its object was. The association believes in strength in unity. The association tends to promote the Public Health and fight diseases. "Prevention" is the slogan. A great deal of money is spent for the maintenance of the Police department and the Fire department—the uses of which are to protect property, but the appropriation for safe guarding the communities health, or for the Health Department is reduced to a minimum.

He then introduced Dr. Guy Kiefer. Mr. Kiefer reviewed the remarks by the President and testified for their truthfulness. A board of public health cannot protect people against their will. All must co-operate with the Board to make it successful.

The things we should be most careful of, he declared, is the water we drink, the food we eat and the air we breathe. The health department protects a community by keeping the outdoor air pure as far as possible. No unnecessary smoke or dust. The people should all keep their homes well ventilated so as to have good air inside. The bed room especially should have plenty of fresh air.

It is also a duty of the health department to keep the water pure and where city water is used—he claimed that the people were always advised if the water was not pure.

The speaker laid special stress on keeping the hands clean. The hands are one of the best conductors of germs as they are used most in the handling of things. Therefore we should wash our hands at every possible opportunity.

All foods he declared can have traces of poison, or disease germs in it, but the milk is the thing we must be most careful of as we use it most and it is often used to excess. Bad milk he claimed was as bad as arsenic.

Other things he brought out were to get plenty of sleep but not sleep too much, keep teeth good, no excessive eating or drinking, have the family doctor examine you at least twice a year as he may detect a deadly disease, as consumption, in the earlier stages when it is curable. Don't have rooms crowded. Don't expose yourself to disease.

In regards to contagious diseases he claimed that one could be rendered immune from Small Pox by vaccination, for a period of five years at least, from Diphtheria for a period of four weeks by antitoxin, from typhoid, for short time by vaccine, and he stated cases where this had been done, proving absolutely that it is true. People should not go into the quarantined houses, as they are apt to carry disease to someone else.

He wound up his address with a short talk on disinfectant, saying the surest way of disinfecting was to burn or broil the articles, but that fumigation of furniture was safe, and an appeal to the people to help protect themselves and not leave it all to the health department.

A VERY PLEASING AND APPROPRIATE PROGRAM WAS RENDERED.

A very fine program was rendered by the members of the Women's Literary club at their meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. E. Telling opened the program with two charming songs. Synne's "Goodbye to Summer" and Paul-Bliss' "Come Out, Mr. Sunshine."

Following this came a pleasing reading of Lowell's "The Present Crisis" by Mrs. Van Syckle.

Drs. Baert and Vanden Berg were called, and dressed the wounds. Albert seems to be very unlucky.

A news item from Jacksonville, Ill., reads this, "During the past three weeks by actual count there have passed through this city bound for the far west, eleven hundred and thirteen emigrant wagons, the largest number ever seen here in the same length of time.

Last Sunday morning the family of John Marks, consisting of himself wife and two children, living at Ventura about eight miles northwest from here, were accidentally poisoned. The mother, in preparing butter for pancakes, mixed it up with arsenic instead of saleratus. Although they are still suffering from the effects, they will recover. Timely aid of a neighbor, who knew enough to administer a powerful antidote, saved their lives.

Why should the character of a girl who is honestly trying to earn her own living and in some cases supporting a dependent relative be questioned any quicker than that of the girl who is born and raised in affluence. There is certainly a dignity in labor, and a person who sneers at or casts reflections on the character of a working girl is not fit to have a woman for a mother.

John Pieters and Ben Van Putten have gone on a pleasure trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

Last Wednesday, Mr. C. Brown who is employed as clerk in the store of B. Wynhoff, was married to Mrs. N. Zylstra whose husband was killed last summer by being struck.

Last Thursday morning while Albert G. Huizenga, was oiling the machinery in the Standard Rolling Mills, his clothing got caught on a shaft, and but for his bracing up against a post, near at hand, he must have been instantly killed or horribly mangled. As it was, it only tore a portion of the clothes from his body.

Their stock of logs was sufficient to enable them to run the larger part of the season, and before they open up again, there will be some extensive repairs made to the plant. The old warehouse will be torn down to make place for a new one, and the steamboxes will also receive a thorough overhauling.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW LITERARY CLUB HOUSE AND NEW HIGH SCHOOL

The Latter Is One of the Most Complete Buildings Of Its Kind; To Be Ready in November.

Work on the new Woman's Literary Club building is progressing very satisfactorily. The outer frame of the building is nearly completed and before cold weather comes the work will be so far advanced that only inside labor will be left which can be done regardless of weather conditions. The members of the club expect that within about six weeks the building will be far enough advanced so that the meetings on Tuesday afternoon can be held in it. It will probably take some time longer before the entire building will be completed and ready for all the departments that will be housed in it.

The new high school is also rapidly nearing completion. All that is left now is to put on the finishing touches here and there, the heavy work having been completed. It is confidently expected that about the first week in November the students of the High school can be transferred to the new building and the class work can be done there.

Few persons who have not paid close attention to the erection of the new high school have any idea of how complete a building it is. It is practically the last word in what is meant by a fully equipped high school plant. Until now the high school in Holland has been a matter of a few rooms with very simple equipment. But the new building is in every respect a "high school plant," with all that phrase implies. In its way it is as complete as any up-to-date industrial institution is in its way. It is to be an industrial institution where well equipped boys and girls are to be turned out, and for this purpose the building has been made as complete as it possible to make it.

There are rooms for every line of mental and physical development and the equipment will be such that Holland will be as well taken care of along this line as any city of its size in the state. The auditorium will be the finest in the city; the gymnasium will be as good as any school of its kind possesses; the recitation rooms are roomy and in all of them there is plenty of light; the ventilation is as perfect as modern invention can make it. There are rooms for domestic science, for manual training, for kitchen work and for shop work; there are waiting rooms and sewing rooms; a room for boys to put their bicycles and rooms for all possible purposes.

The building is solidly built. The stairways are of solid concrete, reinforced with steel and the steel beams that support the doors weigh many tons.

OFFICER WAGNER IS TOO QUICK FOR WILLIAM VAN OORT THURSDAY

Grabs Him When He Tries to Take Sudden Leave of Justice Office.

William (Slick) Van Oort, who won his name for his ability to evade the officers, was arrested late Thursday afternoon, charged with interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duty. When arraigned before Justice Miles' he demanded an examination which has been set for today in the City hall. His father, Richard Van Oort and C. Blom, Sr., signed his bonds for two hundred dollars and he was released pending the examination.

It is alleged that when Officer Stetekete was arresting John Kelly and Harry Travis, two boys, Wednesday night Slick interfered and tried to prevent the arrest.

When arrested, Mr. Van Oort was very reluctant to accompany the officer, saying he did not have time to bother with it, but in spite of his protests he was brought to the Justice's office. When there, he was told to wait a minute. But he became restless and rushed out the door and for the stairs. He was grabbed however, from behind, by Officer Wagner who had him in charge. A short struggle then ensued to determine which was the best man and Officer Wagner won by finally bringing his man before the Justice. No blows were struck but Slick clung to the stairs, desperately determined not to go back to the office.

SEMINARY STUDENTS SUSPEND LESSONS TO BEAUTIFY CAMPUS.

Classes at the Western Theological Seminary were suspended Thursday and Friday while the "Theologians" organized themselves into a campus improvement association.

Large piles of dirt had been left on the grounds from the excavation for the new buildings and gave the campus a rather unsightly appearance. Thursday morning five teams were procured and the "Dominies" leaving their conventional black in their rooms, attired in blue jeans jumpers and armed with spades and shovels attacked the sand heaps in earnest. Thursday about a hundred loads were removed. The plat of ground fronting on Thirteenth st., is being leveled off and tennis courts will be constructed there next week. The good Dutch custom of "coffee tigt" was observed both in morning and afternoon. The beverage was brewed by one of the students and is reported as being fine. Between loads there was time for the discussion of theological questions or the Giants' chance in the world's series, as the case might be.

EDWARD AND RUSSEL VAN RY WILL SET UP HEAD-QUARTERS IN THIS CITY.

Russel Van Ry of this city has returned from a few weeks' stay in Chicago where he and his brother Ed Van Ry bought the contract for the sale of the Aceme Automatic Wrapping Paper holders, manufactured by the Acemegraph Wrapping Paper Co., of Chicago, and they will operate out of this city. The Aceme holder has an automatic printing device attached which prints the merchant's advertisement on the wrapping paper as it is pulled from the roll. Ed. arrived in this city Monday and in a short time they expect to put salesmen on the road in all parts of the state.

They also have an electric window advertisement device, just on the market called the "Mysterious Light." By means of wire currents different colored lights are shown in the air, which attract the attention of the passersby to the window display. They will try to put a few of these signs in this city and will then canvass other cities in the state.

WILL PROBABLY MEAN THE CLOSING OF THE WEST MICH. FURNITURE FACTORY UNTIL NEW STACK IS ERECTED.

During the terrific wind and rain storm at about 6:30 Friday night the 80 foot smoke stack on the West Michigan Furniture factory blew down and was totally destroyed when it struck the roof. The stack was put up last spring and was practically new.

The fires in the furnaces will have to be extinguished until a new stack can be erected and it will probably take a week to do the work. During the time until the stack is repaired it is very probable that the factory will be shut down.

While the watchman was in a distant part of the building he heard the stack fall and running to the engine room found the room filled with smoke. He tied down the factory whistle as an alarm and the whistle soon brought other employees to the plant. The damage was soon repaired sufficiently to allow the smoke to pass out.

This is the oldest couple to whom Mr. Glerum has issued a license since he took the office. The names of the prospective bride and groom are closely related, Mrs. Gates having been the wife of a cousin of the groom's years ago.

ALLEGAN MEN REALIZE A NICE PROFIT OUT OF THEM.

Any number of Allegan men and boys are making money just now fishing clams out of the Kalamazoo river. The Kath company of Muscatine, Ia., have bought in and near Allegan within the past few weeks close to 200 tons of shells which they have shipped to New York for exportation to Europe, where they are used in making "pearl handled knives, revolvers and many sorts of fancy ornaments. Shells from the Kalamazoo river are called Muckette shells and are declared to be the finest of many varieties. Fishermen are paid at present $31 per ton for the shells after the meat has been removed. A farmer living on the river below Allegan spent two weeks dragging the river in his locality and was paid something like $250 for the shells he found. From Allegan, lately have been sent to New York nine carloads of shells with about twenty-two tons to the load.

LAMBERT TINHOLT IS LAID TO REST

"The Prairie Picayune" Tells the Story of the Finding of the Body.

The remains of Lambert Tinholt formerly of Zeeland who lost his life in his burning store at Herried, S. D., recently have been discovered. "The Prairie Picayune" of that place tells the story of the finding of the body as follows:

"As soon as possible after the destruction of the Tinholt building by fire last Thursday evening a searching party began looking for the remains of Mr. L. Tinholt, who burnt with the building. Monday evening about 5:30 p. m. a lot of fragments of bone were uncovered and Dr. Ritchie was at once summoned to pass upon them whether they were those of human being or not. Under the doctor's personal supervision the workmen went further and a number of bones undeniably human were found. Further search unearthed fragments of clothing, buttons, the metal clasps of suspenders and hose supporters. A cuff button, one of a pair which Mr. Tinholt had purchased from Mr. C. O. Robbins, was identified by him. Later his watch, chain and charm were found. From all evidences which were found it is undisputed that the remains found were those of Mr. Tinholt. Requiem services in honor of Mr. Tinholt were conducted at the late residence of the departed and at the Evangelical church. The lodge of the Brotherhood of American Yeoman, of which Mr. Tinholt was a member, attended in a body, and as many as could from the neighboring lodge of Pollock joined with them in giving the last honors to the memory of their brother.

"Mr. Tinholt was born on January 30, 1865, near the city of Zeeland, Mich. On April 10, 1885, he with his parents came to the Dakotas arriving at Ipswich, and moved about three miles northwest of this city where they lived on a homestead. In the fall of 1901 when this city first started he entered into business here and has been here ever since. In his business career he was always successful. He was ever a progressive and busy body and that this city is as far advanced as it is in a great measure his special credit.

"He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife and three children, the youngest of which is about a year old, an aged father, a sister, Mrs. John Van Heuvelen, two brothers, John and Bert, and a host of friends.

ARBITRATION COMMITTEE WILL HEAR CASE OF JOHN STRAATMAN FRIDAY.

Insurance Company Deny Liability On Account of Circumstances of the Case.

For the first time since the passing of the Workmen's Act by the 1912 Session of the Legislature, there is to be a meeting of a committee of arbitration in Holland. The case will be heard in the office of Attorneys Visscher & Robinson, Friday morning at 9 o'clock although the committee may adjourn the meeting to the City Hall.

In this case, John Van Til as guardian of the minor children of John Straatman, who was killed in a fall at the new high school while employed as laborer there, claims compensation, under the act, from Dyke & Oosting, contractors and the Prudential Casualty Co., of Indianapolis. The Casualty Co. is the real party in the case as the contractors are fully protected by their insurance in that company no matter what verdict the board gives.

The arbitration committee that will hear this case is composed of one member of the Industrial Accident Board and two men chosen by the different parties concerned. The man who will be here from Lansing has not been named as yet. Luke Lugers and Seth Nibbelink have been chosen by the parties concerned to act on the committee.

The Casualty Co. claims that on account of circumstances connected with this case, which will be brought out at the trial, there is no liability. Attorneys Visscher & Robinson will represent the applicant. The amount involved is a little over two thousand dollars.

COMES BACK TO HOLLAND AFTER SPENDING SUMMER IN EUROPE.

Dr. G. J. Kollen returned to Holland Saturday afternoon after having been absent in Europe several months. Although he arrived in this country several weeks ago he did not come home till Saturday, having spent some time with his daughter in New Jersey and having reported to Secretary of State Bryan in regard to the opium conference at The Hague.

Dr. Kollen enjoyed the trip very much and he spent a profitable summer in Europe. He visited a number of countries, and the fact that he was the official delegate of the United States to the Opium Conference gave him unusual opportunities to make the trip worth while.

WHAT WAS LEFT OF BODY OF

Resolved, That we hereby express our confidence in the good intentions and integrity of the persons so accused. In this matter,

Resolved, That since no charges have been filed and ample time has been given for that purpose, that from this time on no further mention thereof shall be made in the Common Council since we believe that such unsubstantiated claims are detrimental to good government and unfair to our respectable citizenship, and should not be further encouraged.

COMES BACK TO HOLLAND AFTER SPENDING SUMMER IN EUROPE.

Dr. G. J. Kollen returned to Holland Saturday afternoon after having been absent in Europe several months. Although he arrived in this country several weeks ago he did not come home till Saturday, having spent some time with his daughter in New Jersey and having reported to Secretary of State Bryan in regard to the opium conference at The Hague.

Dr. Kollen enjoyed the trip very much and he spent a profitable summer in Europe. He visited a number of countries, and the fact that he was the official delegate of the United States to the Opium Conference gave him unusual opportunities to make the trip worth while.

CANADA GETS OUR BEET GROWERS

The first effect of the new sugar tariff is indicated by a dispatch printed in Canadian papers, under a Denver date, to the effect that a colony of Colorado beet growers have arranged to move to Alberta, where they will inaugurate a new enterprise for the Dominion of trans planting in foreign soil the occupation their own government has taken from them.

According to the published account, they are to be warmly welcomed across the boundary. Ready-made farms in an irrigated belt, have been prepared for them. These are supplied with new houses, barns, fences and wells, and the prices have been lowered, while the terms of purchase have been arranged so as to be unusually easy. Railroad fares have been reduced for their benefit. It is even intimated that money for equipping the farms beyond the facilities already prepared will be provided, if it is needed.

The Colorado framers must feel keenly the difference between the treatment accorded them by their own country and that to which they are invited. They had engaged in a business which they believed, with reason, to be a public benefaction, and they have been classed by their government with the illegitimate and unworthy, for whom alone the new tariff was to hold terrors, according to the frequent assertions of its framers. "No legitimate business would be injured by the Democrats," the leaders of that party repeatedly announced, but the sugar beet business was not only injured, it was ruthlessly destroyed. And this in the face of the fact that the sugar beet industry has been the sole check upon the rapacity of the cane refiners and has furnished the solitary influence that has kept the sugar market down in late years.

The United States is losing its most valuable citizens when its farmers depart from it. The unnecessary blunder of the sugar tariff will cost the country heavily before it has worked out its full results, and this exodus from Colorado is the beginning of its effects.

The progressive party has gone to South America.

UNCLE SAM AND HOLLAND

Details of a plan of the new foreign minister of the Netherlands, Jonkheer J. Loudon, for a pact with the United States, aimed at joint naval protection of the Dutch East Indies and the Philippine islands, are received in this country.

Jonkheer Loudon has been Dutch minister at Washington, and is more or less well known in this country, and in Grand Rapids in particular.

His proposition, original with him is not new, but with his accession to high position in his own country, takes the form of something more than a passing fancy of a diplomat.

His idea is to place the Dutch navy at the disposal of the United States if the Philippines are attacked, in return, the United States will protect the Dutch East Indies when Holland faces serious trouble there.

The proposition undoubtedly offers unique possibilities for diplomatic entanglement. It was broached then to the secretary of state, Elihu Root, and to former President Taft, but did not reach a state of advanced discussion, owing to the approaching national election in the United States. Now it is proposed to open the negotiation again.

The plan of Minister Loudon probably will find the United States on the defensive, and, at the present first blush of consideration, would seem somewhat beyond the range of probability.

The tremendous difference in the rating of the United States and Holland as sea powers would in itself seem to preclude an equitable arrangement. The fact that Holland has just authorized a new dreadnought to be placed in the East Indies might in a measure reconcile the difference, but not materially.

Minister Loudon will probably have a hard row to hoe in his negotiations, for, so far as dispatches indicate, he still stands without having convinced his own country of the necessity of advisability of his scheme.—Grand Rapids News.

"IN THE NOOD"

At a dinner in New York James Montgomery Flagg, the clever artist told this story to illustrate the influence of the artistic atmosphere:

"You can't escape the artistic atmosphere. Even my cook cannot escape it. She came into the studio today, and said: 'About the potatoes for lunch, sir—will you have them in their jackets or in the nood?'"

THE WETTEST PLACE IN THE WORLD

Baguio, in the Philippines, has been strengthening its claim to be the wettest place in the world. On July 29, the precipitation was 31.79 inches, which nearly equals the world's mean rainfall for the year. But Baguio has done better than that; it made a world's record in July, 1911, with 91.53 inches in four days, of which 33.70 inches fell in a single day. When 7½ feet of water comes down in one storm it is time to look after the shingling of the ark.

A BIT OF EARLY ZEELAND HISTORY

Holland Men Were Good Road Builders

Below is a bit of early history relative to our nearest neighbor Zeeland that will no doubt be of interest to a great many of our local readers. Geo. N. Meengs of Zeeland gives resume of the history in which local men are named:

(By Geo. N. Meengs)

Early in 1847 three meetings were held in the little city of Goes in the province of Zeeland, Netherlands, to plan for emigration to America. It was decided to leave in a body. They organized themselves into a church society, moreover elected J. Van De Luyster, and J. Hoogerstege as elders, and J. Steketee and A. Glerum as deacons. They extended a call to Rev. C. Van Der Meulen of Goes as minister, a call which he accepted.

Next summer three vessels left the Netherlands with emigrants on board; the first under the leadership of Jan Steketee, the second of Rev. C. Van Der Meulen and the third of J. Van De Luyster. These vessels arrived in different times during the fall of 1847.

J. Van De Luyster bought of the United States government section 19, on which the village is located. He also bought section 17, which was settled by his relatives. The peasantry which came from the farm in the old country settled on section 17 and a part of section 16.

Of the suffering, privations and struggles of these early settlers, none not familiar with pioneer life can form a conception. Locating in a dense wilderness, without means, without roads, unacquainted with the language or institutions of the country, inexperienced in the severe labor required from disease incident to living around the swamps and to the process of acclimation; these were the hardships which they had to endure. Many gave up the struggle and moved to Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Grand Haven and other places, some to return when times were better. The majority, however, were "stayers", chief of whom was the old minister, Van Der Meulen, who was at once minister, doctor, land-looker and judge.

Zeeland village which is situated on the west line of the township, was platted in 1849. The village is on sections 18 and 19 town 5 north, range 14 west, on the Chicago and West Michigan, late Bere Marquette Railroad, and is twenty-five miles south-west of Grand Rapids. The territory included within the bounds of the township of Zeeland, was part of the township of Polkton. The first settlers at or near the village were Jan Steketee in July 1847, J. De Hond and C. Den Herder, the latter arriving on the south-west quarter of section 17 August 16, 1847, bringing with him a load of lumber which was immediately placed on end in the shape of a bell tent, under which the family spent night in the wilderness. Dec. 26, 1850, the first meeting of the people was held, at which time a school district was organized, in the Reformed church building. One dollar tax was voted for each child between the age of four and eighteen years of age.

The first highway in the town was laid out November 23, 1849. In March 1851, H. D. Post and James Walker, commissioners and B. Groot enhuis, surveyor, laid out and recorded fourteen highways in the town, providing for an outlet to most of the people.

The first home was a shelter, made of branches. This was soon changed for a log cabin, a cabin dear to the heart of many old settlers.

Corn was ground in a coffee mill; roast corn and beans were substituted for coffee. They went to church in overalls and wooden shoes. I can well imagine the "clap-e te clap, clap, clap" of the shoes on the hard floors. Furniture was rare; a soap box serving for a chair, a slab of a tree, with a few stakes in it, for a table, a barrel for a wash tub.

The old settlers, most of whom are now gone, were, in peace and war, patriots of the noblest type. In the Civil War, the Dutch ministers inspired their people with enthusiasm and devotion for the negro's cause. Some of the most eloquent appeals to patriotism were heard from the pupils of the Dutch churches, and much of the blood that flowed on the field of carnage was "Nederlands Blood."

FLYING ROLLERS IN GRAND HAVEN

Benton Harbor Tribe Taking Rising Sun To Manistee For Repairs

Grand Haven, Oct. 16.—A number of Flying Rollers from the colony near Benton Harbor came into port on the good ship Rising Sun, the official barge of the tribe of Benjamin and Mary. It is an old, unseaworthy hulk, and has been condemned by the United States inspectors, but is still in active service and made the rather stormy trip to Grand Haven in safety. They are taking the vessel to Manistee to put her in drydock for the winter, when she will be repaired.

The Flying Rollers attracted considerable attention on the streets Tuesday night and yesterday. They never cut their hair, and their long, flowing beards, long hair and apostolic aspect made them the central attraction. It is customary for them to preach in the cities they visit, but their reason for not doing so here, they said, was on account of their late arrival and their inability to secure permission.

NO POLICE IN THAT TOWN

South Haven is a lake shore town of 5,000 inhabitants; has eleven churches, a large piano factory, a music academy and a hundred other grand things, oiled streets, rest chairs on every street for weary pedestrians. The Ladies' club rooms there are the finest in the state, their schools are splendid, and best of all there are no policemen stalking about with their clubs for their is order without them. Never a murder or riot in that town, no need of policemen.

Profits in Sweet Cherries

A shipment of cherries from the Paul Rose farm which was sent by express recently to Chicago, will serve to show something of what returns may be expected from Benzie county fruit when it is well cared for in the growing, properly handled in picking and packing.

The shipment consisted of 300 boxes of sweet cherries of the large black variety—ten pounds of fruit to the box, and it sold in Chicago at thirty-five cents per pound, making the returns $1,050.00. A single express truck held the lot, and the transportation charge was $20.16.

1,000,000 Apple Trees

In round figures a million apples trees have been set out in Western Michigan during the past four years and in another four years a goodly number of these will be nearing the bearing period. With this great increase in the apple producing power of the region it is important that there be an increase in the ability of the people to consume apples. So the campaign to set the people to eat the apples is endorsed. Already a large number of copies of the booklet, entitled, "Housekeepers' Apple Boost," have been ordered. Eventually one of these books will be put into the hands of every housekeeper.

A NEW WAY TO GOSSIP

The new game of "gossip" is having quite a run in some localities in the east. It is played with photographs. They are shuffled out like cards, everyone in the party receiving a photo. It is then the play to tell every mean thing about the party photographed. We know of localities in this town where the game has been played without photographs.

COMING TO THE KNICKERBOCKER OCT. 20-21

FILM IS COMING
Life Story of Jean Valjean Will Be Told in Motion Picture With a Cast of Great Artists

The dramatic event of the month is not of the season is the great motion drama, Les Miserables, which will be shown at the theatre. While this picture has just been produced in America, it is already playing in Chicago, San Francisco and St. Louis, and has won the critics of those cities to a man. They are one in their endorsement that the drama is not only the best of motion pictures, but that in interest and entertaining qualities, the attraction probably has no peer on the stage this season. Chicago, in spite of the fact that it is using big Orchestra hall, and giving four performances daily is turning crowds away.

Les Miserables is the first, the pioneer, in the present world wide crusade for better motion drama. For the greater part of the early life of this form of entertainment the pictures shown were crude and deeply offensive. The first step toward uplift was the censorship which succeeded to some extent at least in purging the mass of stories of the most objectionable features. Educators and philanthropists quickly saw the educational advantages of this form of reaching the public and that of the first class theatres, tures were introduced. These proved from the very beginning very successful, people gladly paying the difference between the movie's price in order to enjoy the better pictures.

Now comes the crowning triumph of motion drama, the literary, moral educational, with Les Miserables, the greatest piece of fiction, and the most compelling story of life and love ever written, leading the new movement. It hardly seems necessary to more than mention that Les Miserables is at last, and for the first time, presented to the public as a dramatic attraction. All students know Victor Hugo's immortal masterpiece, and its hero, Jean Valjean is a household word for victory and self mastery. Valjean, conceded to be the greatest character in fiction, from the standpoint of the religious, the moralist, the psychologist, emerges from this complex character for the benefit of the less discriminating reader and becomes merely a wonderful, human, breathing, living, loving man. A man who touched the depths of misery and the heights of happiness. A man who atoned over and over for a trifling fault, and paid the price of injustice with daily suffering. The story of Valjean commences when as a poor, ignorant peasant he steals a loaf of bread for his starving mother. He is caught and sentenced to the galleys for five years. Here he learns two things, to hate his fellow men, and to steal more skillfully so that when he escapes from the galleys by means of his superhuman strength, he is a criminal, and an enemy of the society which has dealt so hardly with his first offense. The story of his sudden rejuvenation is the prettiest thing ever written. Stopping to beg a night's shelter from the good priest, Myriel, he steals the latter's silver spoons, which with two candle sticks is the only silver which the priest has not long since given to the poor of his parish. Valjean takes the spoons and leaves in the middle of the night only to be apprehended by the police who recognize the spoons. Sullen, hateful, miserable, Valjean is brought back to the priest, expecting the punishment he so richly deserves. Myriel however, with his great foresight and kindness assures the police that he gave the spoons to Valjean, adding, as he extends the candlesticks, "And you forgot to take these." This is the beginning of a new life for the stupefied Valjean. He turns away to begin the terrible struggle for respectability, and restoration to the world. Of his terrible strife, his many trials, and his final victory, Hugo has woven a story of such intense and gripping interest, that it has long stood the test of contemporary and subsequent literature, and stands today as the greatest story ever told.

No wonder, then, that with a $100,000 back of them, and all France to help, the producers of the motion drama to be given here at the theatre have been able to achieve a triumph. Ten of the leading theaters of France contributed each an actor. Public and private individuals alike vied in helping them to locate old landmarks, while for the stirring mob scenes and the companies of gendarmes for the rebellion of 1832 talent offered itself almost unasked. So it comes to Holland the best there is to offer to theatre goers. The triumph of modern motion drama.

POOR TROUT SEASON

The trout-fishing season just ended is declared by fishermen generally to have been the poorest of many summers and the reasons given for it are varied. Some say the extremely dry summer and the low water account for the apparent scarcity of trout; others say there are few fish in the streams where once they were plentiful, and they think the fry that have been planted of late years have not withstood the destructive agents. It is being urged about the state generally that larger and stronger fry be sent out in hope that more matured trout may be found.

The Way To Tell Mushrooms

Here are two ways to tell toadstools from mushrooms. The first is by eating them. Take a little piece and chew it, but do not swallow the juice. If you are not sick or dead in another 24 hours you may eat the rest. The other method is to let somebody else have the experience. If they eat the mushroom or toadstool and die, they have been eating toadstools, but if they are neither sick nor dead then pitch in and eat of them to your heart's content.—Ex.

$1.00 WHEAT

Dollar wheat, dollar corn, and dollar potatoes, is the forecast sent out to farmers by the Orange Judd Farmer, the most influential organ of the farmers. Other food products are likely to carry prices in proportion. According to the Orange Judd Farmer, America will have the largest and best wheat crop ever grown this year. Other countries have only a normal wheat yield which indicates the price of wheat will be higher this year.

New Way To Pay Livery Bill

A farmer rushed up to the home of a country doctor in the village late one night and besought him to come at once to a distant farm house. The medicine man hitched up his horse and they drove furiously to the farmer's home. Upon their arrival the farmer said "How much is your fee, Doc?" "Three dollars," said the physician in surprise. "Here y'are," said the farmer, handing over the money; "the blamed livery man wanted five dollars to drive me home."
